Thursday 13	11.30	Visit to the Gemeentemuseum, Den Haag for the Art Nouveau exhibition  "A new art for a new, improved society". That is what many artists and designers were seeking around 1900. After a century of styles that literally quoted from the past, a new form of language emerged, based on asymmetry, curved lines and organic decorative motifs. The Netherlands played its own unique role in this artistic quest. In this country, Art Nouveau fizzed with a desire to innovate and with idealism, but it was also a search for the authentic. In this interdisciplinary exhibition, the Gemeentemuseum will showcase fin de siècle decorative arts in a broad context, making the dynamics of the age (1884-1914) visible, tangible and recognisable in the 21st century, when authenticity and craftsmanship are once more highly prized. Details:          There will be no guide for this tour.          Meet inside the entrance to the museum.          Cost: Free with a MuseumCard, or €15.00 per person without a MuseumCard          Afterwards: lunch, a snack or a drink at the Museum café (at your own expense) If you would like to join this visit, please add your name to the sign-up sheet at the Club, or email Deppy at activitiesbch@gmail.com
