There was more than enough material for this second presentation - Looking Up in Leiden Part 2 - which will concentrate on the historical lintels and plaques (gevelstenen) that can be found around the medieval heart of the city. Improve your Bridge with John

Conclave, published in 2016, deals with the process of electing a new Pope. The story reminds us that the Cardinals who have gathered for the Conclave may be driven by forces that are material, as well as spiritual. With no external influences permitted during the discussions, the Dean of the conclave, Cardinal Lomelli, must investigate the allegations raised against the main contenders, and make their indiscretions known. Is this simply doing his duty, or is Lomelli trying to eliminate any opposition to his own election? Peter will introduce this edition of the Readers' Discussion Group. Improve your Bridge with John
